A SPLASH of Class

Yale '92

YHS Classic

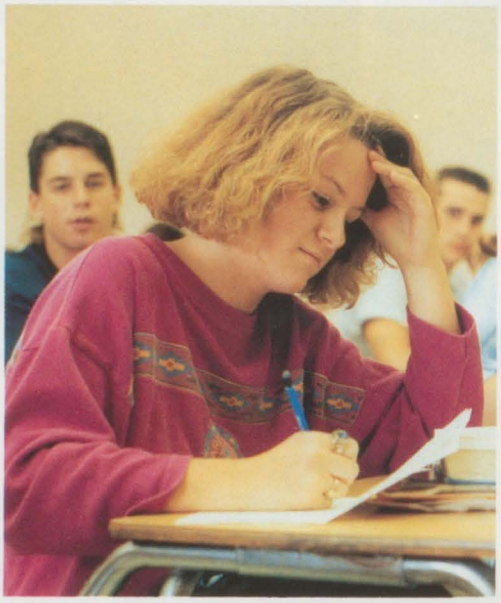

With the rush of students arriving back to school and charging into classes, not to mention extracurricular activities, nobody really had any time to recognize the significant changes that went on over the summer. Enduring the confusion of the first week of school is always hard enough, but this year with the leaving of two math teachers, it was even harder. Many of the math classes were all switched around. Another problem was the temporary replacement of Superintendent Zuhlke, who left to take a job in Sault Ste. Marie. Mr. Keivit took his place for an indefinite time. Even though the beginning of school was more complicated, the students adjusted to it very well. They proved that at Yale High School, pride, spirit and attitude are all it takes to be a class act! Hope you have a great year.

HOMECOMING SPIRIT

The Homecoming game was a big success. Although it was cold and windy, the band played on, and the crowd was pepped. The cheerleaders threw fireballs, t-shirts, and miniature footballs to the crowd which kept the spirit alive.

After two exciting quarters, the half-time festivities began. First of all, the Homecoming court was presented. Secondly, the winners of Homecoming week were announced. The big winners were the Seniors, taking first with their float entitled, "Tigers Aint Just for Breakfast Anymore." They also won spirit week. Juniors came in second with thier float; Sophomores took third and Freshman took fourth. Last came the crowning of King Jeff Edgerton and Queen Jessy Kern. Jeff and Jessy were very happy. Jessy stated she was surprised to be Queen. She also added, "the game was exciting."

By the end of the game, Armada proved to be no match for Yale's widely known football team. The game was a success, ending with Bulldogs 34-Tigers 14.

After the game, excited students rushed home to get ready for the Homecoming dance. The gym was decorated with many streamers, balloons, and a large castle. The dance was alot of fun for many. Shelley Wildie stated, "I had more fun this year than any other year." Homecoming this year will be a memory that will last a lifetime thanks to many volunteers.

Here's one group that is really pepped for spirit Week!

Signing shirts for Autograph Day was just part of the fun during Spirit Week. There also was Clash Day, Class Color Day, and Blue and White Day.

Lined up and ready, the Bulldog offense prepares for yet another touchdown, while a very excited crowd cheers them on to VICTORY.

The stands were packed even though the day was windy and cold.

Freshman representatives, Brad LaMay and Kelly Falter. Sophomore representatives, LaTricia Mason and Jared Thorner.

RUNNING OUT OF TIME

It's 7:05 in the morning, you just woke up late for the third time this week, and it's only Wednesday! Quickly you rush to get ready for school and run out the door. Upon arriving to school, you realize you didn't study for your big test in first hour. You fly past your teacher and into your seat just in time for the bell to ring.

Sound typical? Almost every student experiences times like this in his or her high school years. This is even true atYale High School. Between each class, there is only five minutes to go to your locker, get your books, and get to your next class. In addition, you also have to fit socializing into that five minutes.

Each class lasts for fifty-five minutes. In this time, you fit studing, test taking, and working into a big schedule. Most students cannot do all of thier work in one hour, so they have to take it home.

After school, some students have to rush to get ready for thier sports practices. Others attend club meetings or go to work. Some don't leave until well after school is out.

Yale High School gets pretty bare after the last bell rings. However, during class more than six hundred student rush through its halls.

NO DEFINITION

The fashion for today cannot be defined by just one word. In the 1991-92 school year, everybody has his or her own style.

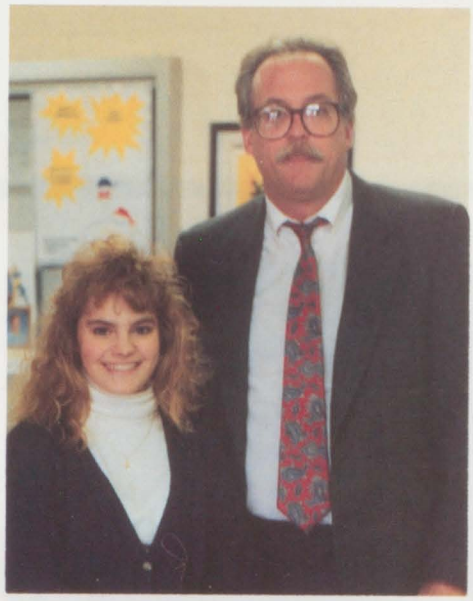

Some of the more casual students chose to wear t-shirts and jeans. Bugle Boy and Guess are a few of the brand names. Overall denim jeans also are often seen in the halls.

B.U.M Equipment, Legendary I.O.U, and College Logo's are just a few of the more popular sweatshirts many students are wearing.

Others dress up for a long hard school day. Colorful cardigan sweaters and turtlenecks are a popular mix. Dressy pants and dockers are also part of this crowd.

Most students like to combine these fashion trends to make their own styles. Adam Collins claims he enjoys just wearing a sweatshirt and a pair of jeans to school. He beleives feeling comfortable is more important than looking good.

The styles at Yale High School is constantly changing, and the students are changing with it.

Jenny Rapson, Ken Campbell, Neil Campbell, Kevin Campbell, Dave Barr, Kory Falter, and

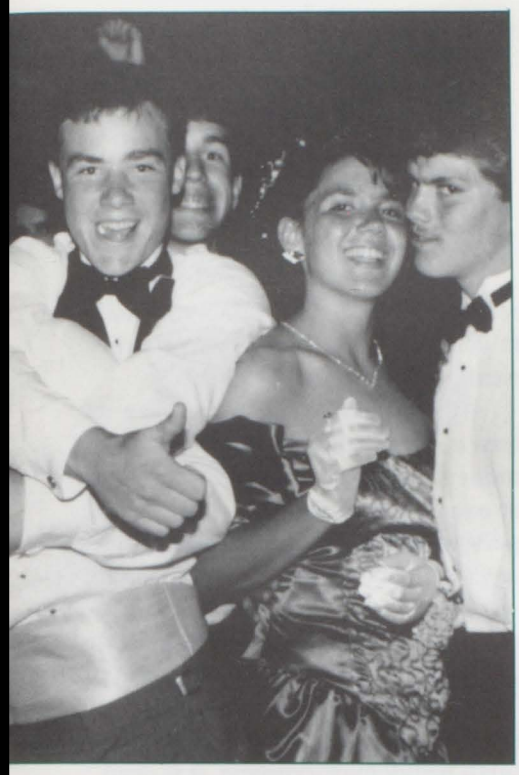

PROM NIGHT 1991

Introducing Prom King and Queen for 1991, Angie Brown and Jim Bosman.

IN MOTION

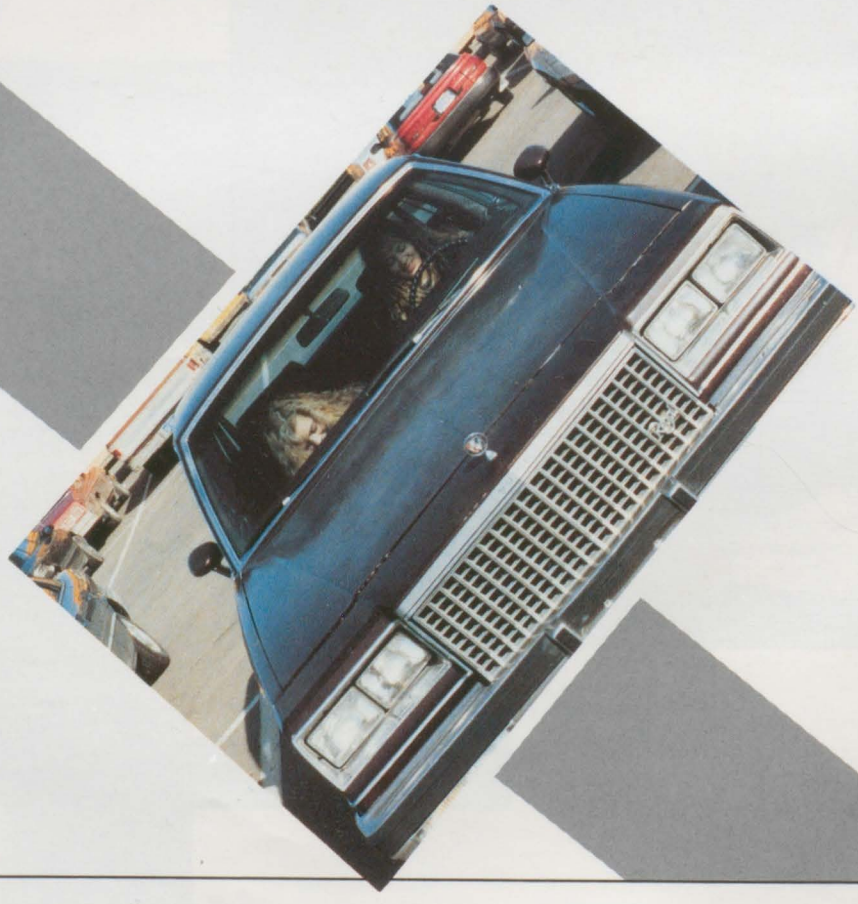

For many students, turning sixteen means one important thing, the ability to drive! With driving comes power, excitement, and responsibility.

Although having a car can give a teen a sense of freedom, it costs a lot of money. Many good used cars can start at one thousand dollars. After a person has the car, he or she still must pay for the insurance. Insurance for teenagers is very expensive. Cars also need gas. Some cars are very good on gas; others are not. It's always good to have a car that's good on gas, but with the rising prices of gasoline and the earth problems increasing, it is even more important.

Having a car may make you feel "high," but it will also make the pocketbook seem "low."

Senior Jeff Edgerton waits patienlty for the busses to leave.

Jerry White and Scott Micheals cruising around after school.

Going uptown after school is Kevin Kovatch.

Demonstrating proper cooking techniques are Seniors Becky Upleger, Bob Lester, Sarah Porada, and Jim Moran.

Head of the Class

For some, 1991 marked the beginning of their high school years. As they walked through the doors, they were excited and even a little scared. For others, 1991, would be the last year they ever had to go through the "first day of high school" again. They would be moving on to college or the work force.

The rest of the students are just looking forward to another year. The Sophomores no longer feel that uneasy feeling, for they now know the routine of the school. The Juniors are looking forward to becoming Seniors in just one more year.

Since last year was such a successful year, everybody is watching to see how great this year will be.

Some students agree, paying attention to lechures are one of the hardest things to do. Brian Davies is a good example.

Catching up on his Homework is Jake Perry.

President - Jeff Edgerton

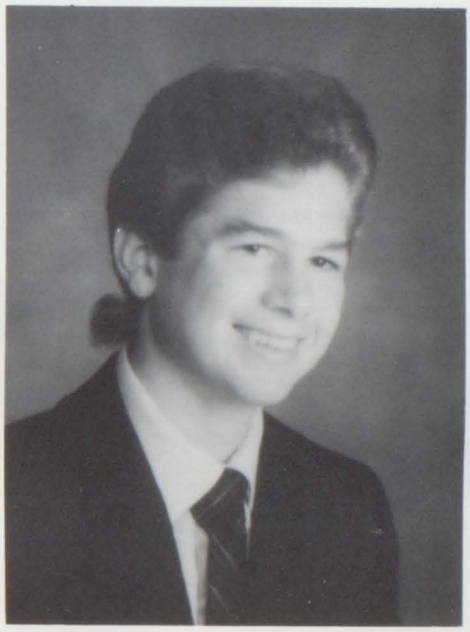

This year is a very special one for the senior class of 1992. This is the last year we'll be at Yale High, the last year we'll be in high school sports, the last year for band, and the last year for detentions. After graduation, all of us will be going our separate ways. Some of us will be going to college while others go to their jobs. Right now, most of us are still at home, but after this year we will be financially independent. It's a time of great change for us all.

These four years are called "Glory Days" by many people. While most times are fun ones, there are still great pressures from family , friends, and teachers to do better in school and be a better person. The choices a student makes now are going to affect their future a great deal. That is a tremendous burden for many people.

School, as they say is place for learning and growing. The Senior class of 1992 has accomplished both of these. There still is a lot of learning and growing to be done, but we've come a long way from the kindergartners who took their first step into school more than twelve years ago.

We would like to thank Mr. Little and Mrs. Palmateer, our class advisor. They were invaluable to us over the years. We would also like to thank the faculty, staff, and parents for their care and support. We wish the other classes of Yale High School the best of luck!

Best Wishes,
Jeff Edgerton
and
James Ostrander

Hello and welcome to the junior section of our yearbook. I am Steve Kwasnik, the junior class President, along with Siouxzy Campou, Vice-President; Shawn Poulter, Treasurer; Shelly Gleason, Secretary; and Mr. Wood, our class advisor. Together we are doing all we can to insure that this year is our most fun and productive.

In the short time that we have been in school, our class has already done many spirited activities. These include the building of our float for homecoming. A strong showing in spirit week competitions and support for athletics. We are presently planning a bake sale to raise funds for our future class projects. With this class advisor, we are certain to continue our spirited trend.

In closing, I wish the Senior Class good luck in the future.

Sincerely,
Steven John Kwasnik

What is the one thing every fifteen year old thinks about the most? Driving! Sixteen year old juniors get the chance to fulfill this sophomore dream by doing almost anything to get a car. Some get a job for the sole purpose of buying a car, paying for maintenance, gas, and insurance. Others get a car from their parents. Amy Johnson Started driving when she turned sixteen during her sophomore year. Amy drives a 1983 light blue Pontiac 6000, which her parents bought in June of 1990. Amy would rather drive to school, "So I can get up later, and so I don't have to ride with all the under-classmen." Amy works at Bisco's Truck Stop as a cashier so she can provide insurance that cost $378.00 every six months on her car.

Sean Quain also started driving when he turned sixteen. Sean drives a 1985 red and black Ford Mustang. Sean said he paid too much for his car back in February of 1991. Sean pays $286.00 every six months for his insurance. Sean would rather drive to school so, "I can leave on my own time, and I can control my own radio station. "Sean takes turns driving to school with Kevin Kinney and spends around $15.00 a week on gas. Hard work and after school jobs are the way some juniors fulfill their dream of driving to school.

On the weekends Angie McGeary likes to go to the mall with her friends. Her curfew is set at 12:30 A.M. but it doesn't bother her because her friends have the same curfew time.

SPLASH OF SOPHOMORES

The sophomore year is a very exciting time because now is the time when they are no longer considered Freshmen. As sophomores, many changes are happening in their lives. For many it's time to gain some independence and more responsibility. Most will be getting their licenses soon. Many will be getting their first car, having a later curfew, and getting that first job. Between school, friends, sports, and jobs, it is hard to find time for homework. However, many sophomores manage to get through all of this. Jeremy Grove practices all week and has games, but yet, he finds time for homework, friends, and his responsibilities at home. Many sophomores can be found up late at night during the week studying for a test or putting the finishing touches on last minute assignments. Then on weekends it's time for friends and fun. As these changes come, many memories will have been made. Most of them are good; some are bad, but they're definitely all memories that each sophomore will take with him or her wherever he/she goes.

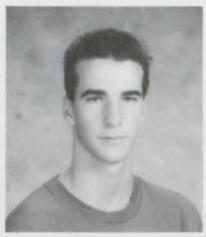

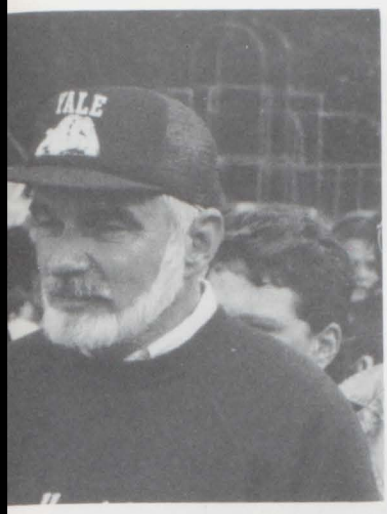

Hello, I'm Tiffany Meleg and I'm the 1991-92 Sophomore class president. The 1991-92 Vice President is Laura Pelt, Secretary is Tracy Kern and Treasurer Is Latricia Mason. All four of us are happy to be the class officers for our class.

This year the Sophomore class has ordered Yale shorts to be sold, and are sponsoring a dance. We will be holding more fundraisers as the year moves on. I'd like to wish everyone a good year and to the graduating class good luck in the future.

Thank-you,
Tiffany Meleg
Sophomore President

The Sophomore class showed a lot of spirit at Homecoming. They worked hard weeks before the Homecoming Festivities thinking of an idea to go along with the theme of "Breakfast Cereals". Since the Bulldogs were on their way to be S.T.A.champs, "Wheaties-Breakfast of Champions" fit the Bulldogs perfectly! The sophomores were organized, goodworkers,and got the job done" stated class advisor Mr. Decker. All their hard work finally paid off at the parade. Many Sophomores were seen cheering on their float at the parade. If not riding behind the float, they were in the crowd cheering their class on. Then came the game. Once again they were up in the stands cheering on the Bulldogs to victory.

CARD TO FREEDOM

The highlight of a sophomore's year was the "little card" giving them freedom. They anxiously anticipated that special sixteenth birthday up until the very day. Most Sophomores have a countdown in effect until their birthdays. Although most sophomores still must fight for their freedom by getting the family car, some win the battle by their parents giving in and getting them a car. Still it always seems to be a never ending battle of freedom. Many parents will buy their kids cars, but some, like Dennis Barr will have to save, and buy his own car. Whether it's a nice car or a car that just gets you there, it still means FREEDOM.

Even though Craig Hillis hasn't got his license, he still cruises with his friends until he does.

From paper to plastic: the long awaited license!

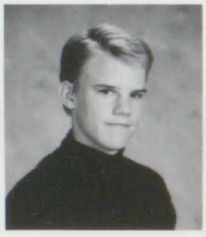

Brian Lossing deviously thinks of what he'll do with his long awaited driver's license.

Lunch is a place for good times, lots off laughs, and generally goofing off. No lunch would be complete without a few jokes about the lunch menu of the day. Tim Strenk said "Lunch isn't that bad, but there are too many rules". All in all, most Sophomores would agree that lunch is a good midday break from the hectic days at Yale High School. Even though there are many jokes about the menu we still appreciate the good things like the snack window being open, and the music. We can thank our principal, Mr. Darin for the music. Though many students laugh and scoff the lunch period, they still are happy to be given a chance to hang out with their friends and get the scoop on the next guy.

ON THE RISE

As a Sophomore, you begin thinking Somewhat of your future. Although, most of you don't have definite plans quite yet, of the 74 percent of sophomores surveyed said they planned to attend college after High School. The other 15 percent were still unsure of what the future held in store for them. On the subject of jobs, 40 percent said that they already have an after school job, and on another servey 90 percent said that the best thing to do on a weekend was to go out and hang with their friends, or just have a good time by either cruising or going to some of the weekend patries.

Many of the Sophomores are now beginning to really date seriously, and if not are rather anxious to get started.

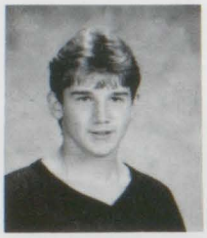

As you finally settle into your high school routines, you begin to realize just exactly what being a Sophomore is really about. Your finally getting a little much deserved RESPECT!!!!

Pretendind to know exactly what he's doing as Mrs . Hedge is looking over his shoulder is Sophomore Dennis Barr

At the right Sophomore , Theresa Stiles .says " Up...Up...And...Opps walked another one.

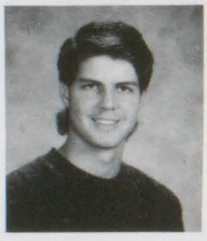

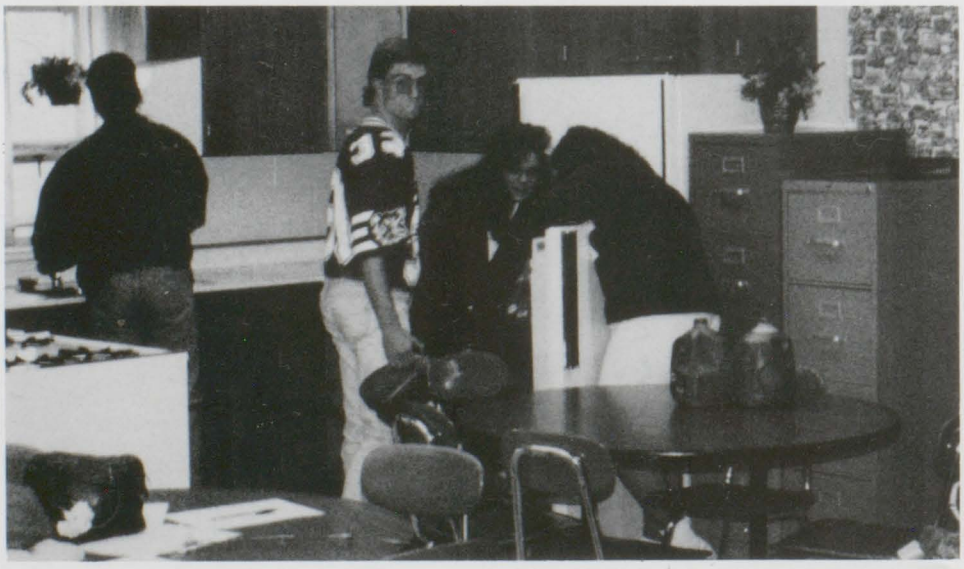

Wondering why it matters if a trangle has 180 degrees is Sophmore, Carrie Eschker.

Trying to figure out what they just made in foods class is Sophmore Jason Lamay.

"What are you looking at?" Questions Jennifer Bertram.

LOWEST RUNG

Freshmen will always be the lowest on the totem pole. However, this doesn't mean they have to act like it. This years Freshmen showed alot of potential: The Freshmen proved to be a class all their own. They quickly got used to the high school life and adjusted to the new scenery.

Freshmen generate a lot of spirit during spirit week, and organized many fund raisers. When asked what the best thing about being a Freshmen is, Ryan O'Connor stated, "There are more things to do." Mr. Dewey, who teaches Art I to many Freshmen, exclaimed he thought the best thing about this years Freshmen is their enthusiasm. He also added, "All the different personalities is what distinguishes this years Freshman from others."

Although the class of '95 generates a lot of activity, with any Freshman class, they have had some hard times adjusting to high school life. Joe Brown felt that he thought it was rough getting used to sharing a locker with three people. When asked what the worst thing about being a Freshman is, Darlene Schemansky exclaimed, "getting pushed around."

Although the Freshman had a hard time getting used to the high school, they adjusted quickly and are looking forward to their sophomore year.

Hi, my name is Zygmunt Porada. I am the president of this years Freshmen class. The other officers this year are Vice President, Audrey Brennen, Secretary, Andreu Rector, Treasurer, Brian Campbell.

Our first big project this year was our Homecoming float. With the support of Mr. and Mrs. Schrand, our class advisors, and many fellow classmates; we believe we put together a very nice float for our first attempt. We plan to do better in our future years of float building.

The next project was our magazine sales. We did very well. The class earned a lot of money that will be put to good use for future projects.

Finally, we would like to thank the upper classmen and the staff at Yale High School for the warm welcome. We would like also to say "good luck to all" in their up coming years at Yale High.

A Step Above

"In junior high, people treated you like children. Here they treat you like an adult," that is what Amy Graves told us when we asked her one difference about junior high and high school. According to Jeff Bechtell, another difference is, "junior high had less responsabilities and the classes were easier." Yes, there are many differences between junior high and high school. Some students like junior high and some prefer high school. Freshmen like Chris Warner are excited about getting closer to graduation. Even though they do have four years to go, they think about graduation probably as much as the other classes do. Jennifer Campbell mentioned, "...in high school you are considered the 'Big People'. " Most Freshmen we talked to didn't seem to think they were the lowest class. Actually, they felt more mature and older because they had finally reached high school. The Freshmen class is very important to Yale High School. It's the class of the future.

Class Leaders

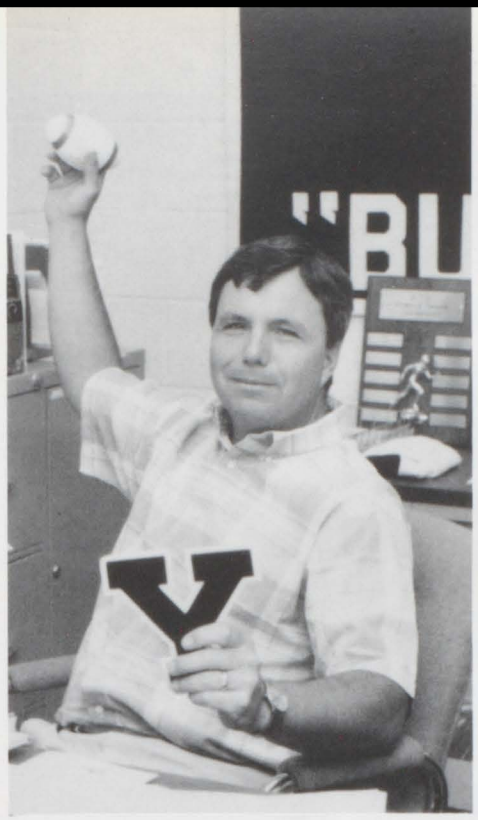

Imagine not having any goals for the future or having no plans and no expectations. Without goals, Yale High School would not be what it is today. The doors to the future would be closed, and students could not achieve a standard for themselves. Goals lead to success.

Setting goals for students is important to the faculty at Yale High School. They help with individual problems students may be experiencing and give them a chance to ask questions. Ask some students, and they will tell you that classes may be challenging, but fun.

Goals are also important to the counselors at Y.H.S. Mr Little helps mainly with Juniors and Seniors. He offers information about Colleges and Universities. Mr. Little also takes time to listen to the students. Mrs. Thomson's emphasis is mainly on Sophomores and Freshman. She helps the underclassmen cope with the stressful times of coming into high school.

Without goals, many students would not have the ability to go as far as they could. All students need goals and are working to acheive them.

TOP BRASS

Our administration consists of our secretaries Rose Curtis, Mag Sabada , and Traci Palmateer. When asked what the favorite part of her job was, Traci responded by saying " I enjoy working with the students and the staff". They keep the school organized and running smoothly. Students also know to follow the rules here at Yale, as our assistant principal and principal Mr. Darin and Mr. Decker do a great job at enforcing them. Mr. Decker was questioned as to what takes up most of his time in school, and he said "Making sure that everybody had an equal opportunity to get the best education that they want." He explained that if a student is caught skipping he gets the impression that the student feels as though Mr. Decker is picking on them when actually` he's concerned that by not attending classes a student is cheating themselves out of an education. We can all thank our administration here at Yale for making it a great place to attend school.

In Perfect Harmony!!

The choir is an important part of our school. Their perfomances are enjoyed by many.

The choir attends many competitions during the year. The purpose is they are a great learning experience and enhance the individuality of the performers. These competitions also allows the school to showcase the unique and interesting talents of the students.

Fine Tuned Sounds!!

The band has played an important part in supporting our school. They participate in events such as sports programs, football games, basketball games, and pep rallies.

Band provides a valueable skill which students can carry into adulthood. Many of the band students go on to participate in collegiate bands and community groups. The band is a great experience for many talented students.

DOE RAE...

The competitions that choir and chamber ensamble attend are a lot different than one would expect. Dawn Girten Quotes " Its a fun experience because you get to go to different places. Everybody's full of tension , but when its over there's a feeling of accomplishment. Its great." "They're hard. Its not as easy as everyone thinks. There's alot of time and effort, but everything pays off in the end when the judges give you a 1 or 2 rating." states Michelle Laperre.

Ms. Oneil, their teacher, is very dedicated. "As a competitor, competition is a great way to see how my choral groups compare with the 60 other choirs in our district. As a student, I learn a great deal from other choirs , choral directors, and adjudicators. I am confident that my choral groups are receiving the best music education from these competitions, myself and the adjudicatory," quotes Ms. Oneil.

"Explosions"

Steve Childers admits his favorite class as a sophomore is Mr. Smith's physical science class. Steve has taken biology as a freshmen, and has plans for environmental science his junior year. This year he is enjoying Mr. Smith because "there's a different experiment and a different explosion everyday" states Steve. Senior Sarah LaGore says her physics class can be difficult, but Mr. Hunt walks you through every step so you don't get lost. Here at Yale, students may take Biology I and II, chemistry, physical science, enviornmental science, and physics. Our teachers for these subjects are Mr. and Mrs. Schrand, Mr. Regis Smith, and Mr. Hunt.

This year many changes took place in our math department. Mr. Rathje and Mr. Denny, two of our very fine math teachers, left us this year for new teaching positions in other school. Mrs. Hedge left her Algebra classes to take over trigonometry and computer math. When asked how she liked that change, she responded by saying that she liked it a lot. Mr Rutledge took over her Algebra and Algebra 2 Classes, while Mr. Smeznik left the gym to over see the geometry classes. Mr, Smeznik said that it was a nice change of pace and that he enjoys teaching math .

Even with all the new faces in the math department, students still dread all the work in math classes. Senior Jenny Kilbourn said that all she was happy about was that she was at least passing her trigonometry class. However, there are also those students who actually look forward to math class. Who, you may ask? Well according to freshman Davina Girten, her favorite class when she entered high school was Algebra. Why Algebra? "Because its a good learning experience," states Davina. Our math department is a great part of Yale High School..

Q. How did Mr. Denny's leaving affect you?
A. "Mr. Denny was a good teacher, he taught me alot. I was sad to hear he left."
-Beth Chiesa

PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE

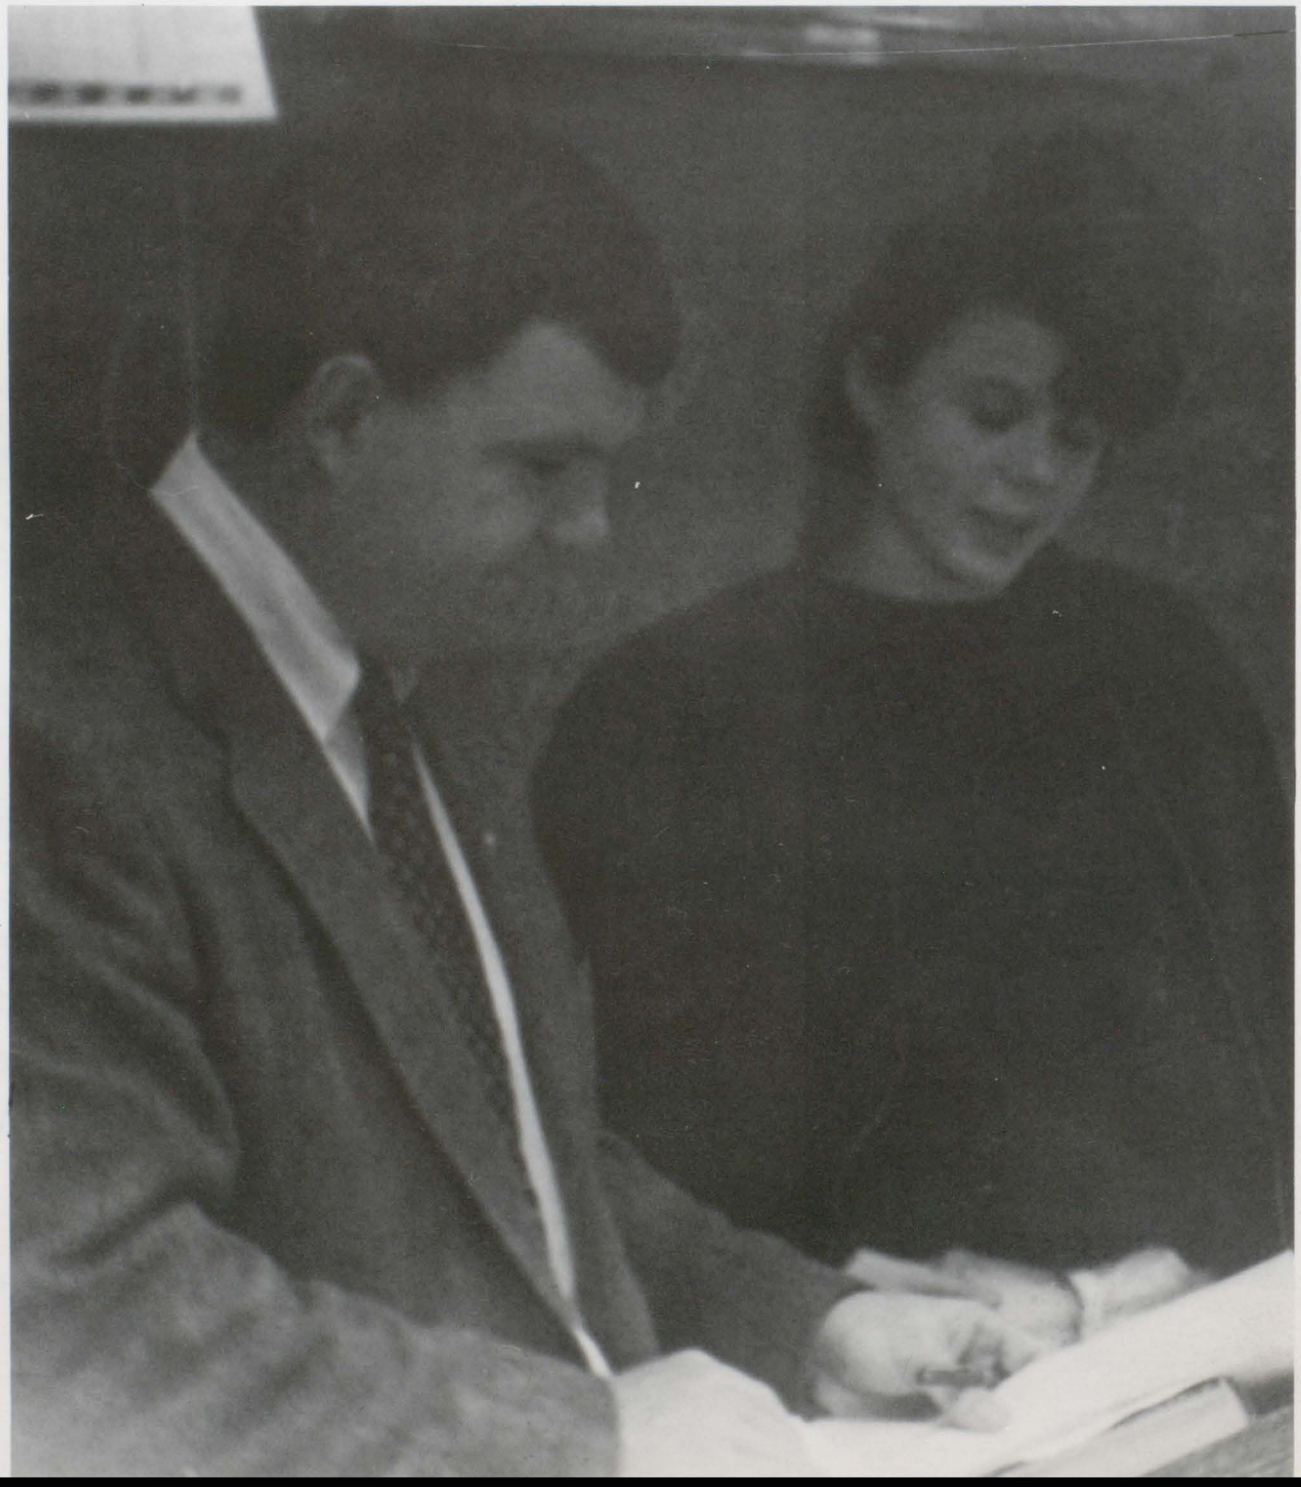

The Social Science department includes World History, Current World Affairs, World Geography, and Econonmics.

American History, taught by Mr. Robinson, explains what happened in the United States and how the U. S was started.

"Mr. Robinson makes the class very interesting with stories of his life and what was happening when he was our age," exclaimed Christine Aldis.

Mr. Wood's Econ class deals with the economy and how it is run. One of the goals in the class is to play the stock market successfully. Each year the class is split into teams, and each team competes with teams from other schools. Learning the stock market and experiencing it in this way is fun and enjoyable for the class.

Expressing Ideas with Literature.

A student at Yale High School is required to take three years of English. The English classes may either be taken as general or advanced. Students may also take four years of English if they wish to.

The teachers of this area are Ms. Taylor, Ms. Bromberger, Ms. Allam, and Ms. Dagg.

In the general English classes, the basics of English and Literature are taught. In the advanced English Department, the classes are a bit more in-depth. The History of Literature is learned, along with correct writing skills. "It is interesting to learn the different types of writing styles," commented Raina Griffith.

Recieving some help from Mrs. Dean is Freshman Jason White.

Reviewing her work is Tanya McMurtry.

"Advanced English is a challenging class. Ms. Allam makes it interesting."

Preparing the Future

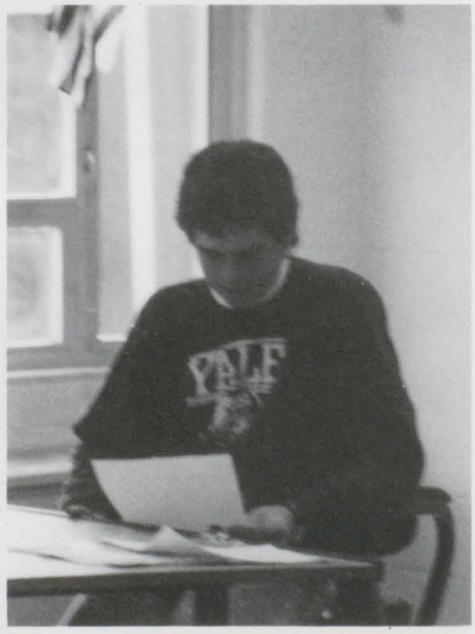

The Fine Arts classes prepare students to enter into various fields of study after high school. This Department is taught by Mr. Dewey. It consists of Yearbook, Journalism, Photography, and Art 1-4.

In Mr. Dewey's advanced Art classes, the students not only draw pictures for assignments, but they also paint views on canvas cloths. The classes allow the students to build up a portfolio. Some students will use these portfolios to enter certain colleges or to enter the work force using their abilities.

The fine Arts classes are a good experience for those wishing to persue a career in Art or Journalism.

Taking a foreign language can be quite a challenge, depending upon how much time and effort a student is willing to put into it. According to junior Steve Kwasnik, spanish also looks good on a college application. "I'm taking spanish II this year because most colleges are requiring two years of foreign language," states Steve. Between studying the language, learning how to pronounce it the way our friends across the ocean do, and eating four Spanish a nd Mexican dishes prepared by Ms. Sworthwood, we gain much knowledge of the subject and cultures. Ms. Sworthwood is our only Spanish teacher, and students agree she's nice and seems to know what's going on.

"Sugar & Spice"

Everybody needs to learn how to cook someday, and why not start out here at Yale? Students prepare many dishes from meats and poultry to cookies and cakes. Miss Carpenter enjoys teaching foods, and when asked what her most memorable experience she had, she smiled and said, "A couple of years ago there was so much smoke in the room during a lab that a janitor came down to the room with a fire extinguisher ready to battle a fire." Other home ec classes a student may take here at Yale is Personal and Family Living and Clothing. They are taught by Miss Carpenter and Mrs. Willer.

Senior Ken Campbell says he enjoys foods class because he gets to eat alot. He stated that partners Christine Aldis and LaTricia Mason tend to watch thier weight a little more than him, Niel Campbell, and Dan Perry.

One Inch at a Time!

Mr. Marcetti's shop class is a learning experience," said senior Bob Lester. The shop class this year is learning many different things. Students agree that learning to build and work with wood will be very helpful in the future. One of the things that the class is doing this year is building eating utensils. Mr. Marcetti is creating future carpenters of America.

BUILDING SKILLS

To learn a skill or trade is the purpose of the Tech Center. Many of Yale High School students attend the Tech Center. Most of the students attending classes at this school plan to make a career out of what they are learning.

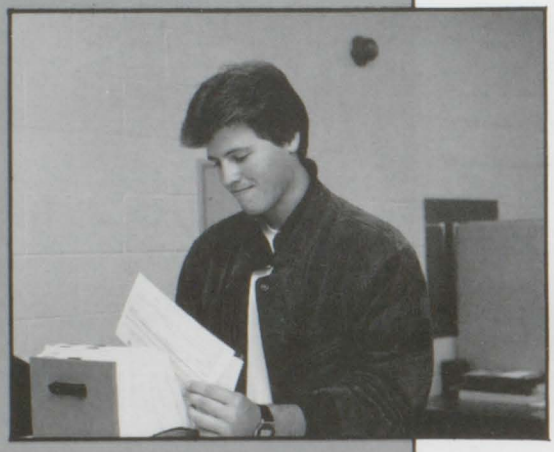

There are a wide variety of skills to be learned at Tech Center. These skills range from Child Care to Automotive.

The students that attend the Tech Center get out of their third hour class early and attend first lunch. They leave lunch five minutes early and have a 45 minute bus ride. "The bus rides are boring, it seems like it takes forever," commented Trisha Pierce. She quickly added,"but Cosmotology is fun, you get to meet alot of new people!"

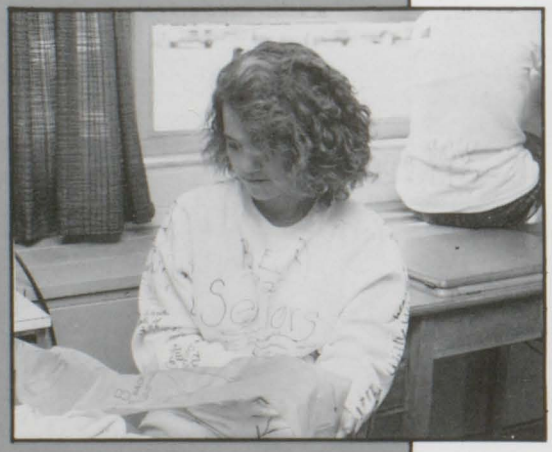

The Tech Center students put in a long day. The Tech Center bus does not return to Yale until 3:00 p.m.

CLASS ACT

Organizations play a vital role in the community and add variety to the school. Many of the functions clubs participate in not only are beneficial to the students, but also outside of the classroom. The students of Yale High School work hard to make all the organizations run as smoothly as possible.

Those involved in clubs at Yale High School enjoy helping the community. One example, is the Student Council's Annual Blood Drive. On Friday, November 22, 1991, seventeen year olds and older, who weigh over 110 pounds donated their time and blood. Another helpful group is the F.H.A. In November, this organization supplied a Thanksgiving Dinner to a needy family. S.A.D.D also worked very hard outside of the school. Their "Tie One On" campaign was aimed at teens and adults alike on the dangers of drinking and driving.

These organizations, along with many others, offered at YHS unite the school and community.

An Extra Hand

Office aids can give a lot of help if needed. They allow the secretaries to give individual help to each student whether its calling parents or handling the requests of Mr. Darin. Their job consists of anything from running errands to picking up the attendance. Office aids also make copies on the xerox machine. They're often a needed extra right hand. Beth Chiesa added,"working in the office gives me the experience that I feel will be needed when I go to college to further my education in busines."

"Attention Everyone"

Library aids assist Mrs. Vesper in any way possible. They help her with many tasks she can't attend to because of helping other students. Many of these tasks include filing articles in the vertical file, checking books out, writing out detentions, getting new books out and ready to put on the shelves, and of course, selling M&M's. Also, working in the library can give a student the experience he or she might need to work in an office setting. "The Think Tank" just wouldn't be the same without the library aides. Jay Gaddis added, "working in the library gives me the experience of filing, and working with people."

Q: Why do you like having office aids?

A: They are a big help, when Mag, Traci or I are busy they assist us in any way possible. They save us many steps throughout the day.

WHO LET THE DOGS OUT

The Bulldog Pack did an excellent job raising the school spirit and keeping the crowd level up. Only these dedicated members would do this. They wear costumes at home games and pep assemblies. I think everyone would agree the games just wouldn't be the same without our helpful Bulldogs!

Q: Why did you decide to join the Bulldog Pack?

A: I have always enjoyed promoting school spirit so I thought this would be an excellent idea.

ON THEIR TOES

The Student Council was responsible for organizing the Homecoming festivities. Putting in a lot of time and hard work, they managed to pull it off successfully. The blood drive netted over 70 pints. Also, they had a canned food and coat drive which try to provide for the needy at Christmas.

During the months ahead, they are arranging for a fashion show and another blood drive. With all of their responsibilities and extra effort, student council members were on their toes.

Taking Responsibilities

An important roll to all teachers are making sure that their papers are graded for the students the next day. These students were chosen by a teacher at the beginning of the year to run errands and grade papers. We asked Rachel Kocis what she thought of being a teachers aid for Mrs. Dagg and she told us that " I really enjoy helping Mrs. Dagg with her work and she has been a great influence on me and other students in high school." Being a teachers aid is a responsible job that has to be done correctly. The teachers picked a fine group of students this year to help them.

Hard work and ambition pays off for the Equestrian team. They have captured two consecutive regionals in the past two years and went to the state invitational last year. Marlene Armstrong and her horse "Solo's Son" were second in the region in total points. Preparing for a competion takes alot of time and practice, and the team thanks their coach, Mary Lou Armstrong for all her time and effort she has done over the past three years. The 1991 Equestrian team did an excellant job on another successful season.

S.A.D.D. is an opportunity to give information to the other students about the causes and effects of drinking and driving. They had a "Tie one On" campaign before Christmas where students tie red ribbons on their automobiles in support of not drinking and driving over the holiday. S.A.D.D. also decorates the display case on the corner of Science hall and the Office hall, so when your passing by the next time, check it out. There is always something interesting to see. We asked Casandra Ulbrich what she thought of S.A.D.D. and she told us, " I think that drinking and driving is stupid and there is no reason for anybody to risk their own life as well as others while driving. If you have to much to drink then avoid driving and let someone else take you home. S.A.D.D. just tries to express how Dangerous the effects of drinking and driving are".

Hola! Me llamo Jim Sheehan and soy presidente del club de Espanol. Las otras officiales son Becky Cronin, vice presidente, Erin Zochowski, tresorera, y Diane Anderson, secretaria.

Hi from Spanish Club! My name is Jim Sheehan. I'm the president of Spanish Club. The other officers are Becky Cronin vice president, Erin Zochowski, treasurer, and Diane Anderson, secretary. In the spanish club we always have something going on. Throughout the year we plan food fiestas which we have a foreign meal and prepare it. Muy Sabrosa!! (Tastes Great) We also sell M&M's and Love O' Grams. The money we raise is used to buy sweatshirts at the end of the year. Also, we eat at a spanish restaurant. Adios, Amigos.

F.H.A stands for Future Homemakers of America, but F.H.A means a whole lot more! The Future Homemakers of America gives a thought of housewives at home, but the F.H.A is completely different. They attend many functions throughout the year, and organize activities for groups outside of the school.

The F.H.A has had a very successful year. They started out by providing a needy family with a Thanksgiving Dinner. The food was greatly appreciated and enjoyed. "It feels good to know that you have helped somebody out like that, and that they really appreciated it," stated Casandra Ulbrich.

Leaders...

The National Honor Society is a student service organization that is made to help and provide for other students in their academics. Mr. Steve Hunt is the advisor of the organization, and Jim Bowen is the president. Each Wednesday the organization members help provide free tutoring to any student. They provide to the elementary students also by having a six grade overnight at the high school. At the overnight, the members help the kids in projects and make the kids have a very special time that they would always remember. This years National Honor Society had a very enjoyable and successful year.

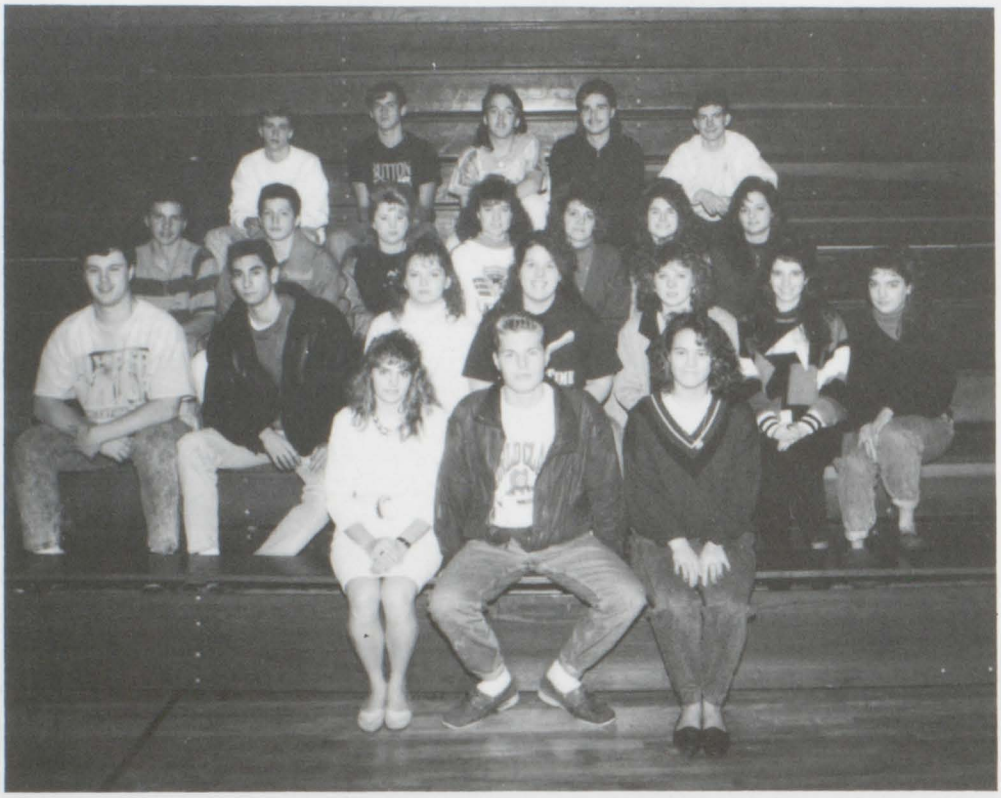

Senior, Maria Ryder studies hard for her independant study class. Maria is also a member of the National Honor Society.

Discusing what they should do after the next National Honor Society meeting is Patty Spagnuolo, Shawn Francek, and president Jim Bowen.

A SPLASH OF CLASS!

Meeting Deadlines!!

Yearbook class is not all fun and games. From the first day, the students begin learning all about layouts and various yearbook techniques.

Deadlines are the most important thing about the class. All the students have to rush to get their work done. A students grade depends a lot on wether they can make their deadline or not. "I thought that yearbook was gonna be easy, but I found out that it wasn't," stated Todd Sechrest.

The advisor of the Yale High School yearbook is Mr. Rod Dewey. This class is open to all Juniors and Seniors.

Aaron Sklba rushes to finish his layouts hoping to meet his deadline!

ROCKIN

The band plays an important role at many high school events. The band is usually present at football games, basketball games, and even makes some appearences at parades. The band also adds to the enjoyment of the pep assemblies.

Mr. Falls has helped in making the high school band outstanding, but it is also the dedication and organization of many talented students, that makes the Yale High School band what it is.

Discovering Science!!

The 1991-92 Science Club is in it's twenty-first year. The club gives the students an oppertunity to study other sciences that are not taught in classes and use specific equipment on experiments. The Science Club also plan trips during the year. This year, they planned on traveling to Toronto for a day. For a longer trip, they looked forward to going to Washington D.C.

The advisor of the club is Mr. Steven Hunt. The president is Shawn Francek and the Treasurer is Marvin Gill.

Visitors from Another Country...

Imagine leaving your friends and family to go to another country getting to know a new family, new friends, and a new way of life. Wouldn't it be a drastic change? Why would these students want to leave everything they have become accustomed to? Our exchange student Adriana Drubezki from Uruguay said that she wanted to learn about the culture, the language, and about the way of life of the American people. Leena Rontassari from Finland said she wanted to see a new country and meet new people. Erwan Labalec from France stated that he came to America because it is one of the largest countries in the world, and he studied English for nine years, so he wanted to test what he had learned.

One way that these students are able to participate in a new way of life is Y.F.U. Y.F.U. stands for Youthe for Understanding, and Y.F.U. has been a helpful program for students wanting to learn of new ways of life. Y.F.U. has few requirements. The student has to be 15-18 years of age, a 3.0 G.P.A. or higher, and in good health. Traveling to a different country may be scary yet a rewarding experience.

Hi!

I'm Bill Fidas "the Greek". I was here for 4 months and then I had to go back to Greece, because I wanted to play basketball and I couldn't do it here. I enjoyed my stay very much and I miss you all a lot. I want to say thanks to all the teachers and the students for all the help. I really hope I can see you guys again someday!

Hei (Hi) YHS,

I'm Leena Rantasaari fom Finland. I'm really enjoying my stay here in the USA a lot. I want to say thanks to all the students and teachers here in Yale, who have helped me so much. I also want to say special thanks to my great family, the Cronins, and to my awesome friends! I will miss you guys a lot! I enjoyed the American way of life, and I hope I can come back someday or maybe you could come visit me. You're always welcome to this address.

Al!

I am Erwan Labalec. First, I'd like to thank all the people from YHS. The students who have been very nice and helpful, and the teachers who were very friendly and patient. I have learned so much and had so much fun with my dearest friends that I"ll never forget this great year America. Yale might be the smallest town I have ever seen, but people of Yale are the friendliest. My friends will always be welcome in my house, here is my address:

Hallo!

My name is Astrid and I was your exchange student '92 from Germany. I hope I wasn't a "pain in the neck" all the time. Its been a super year full of experience and suprises. I want to say thanks to all the teachers; especially, Mr. Presnell, Ms. O'Neil, Mr. Dewey, to all the students and the friends of mine. You guys and my host family made a great year for me. Thanks that you took me as I am. Now I wish the next Seniors good luck! I hope to hear from you one time. I will miss you.

First Class

Success does not come over night. It takes strength, self-motivation, energy, dedication, and a lot of hard work.

Yale has a very successful athletic program. For the last three years, YHS has won the S.T.A All Sports Award. The Bulldogs have also won the S.T.A Spirit Award three times.

Another award received by players is the S.T.A All Academics Award. In order to obtain this award, an athlete must maintain a "B" average and receive a Varsity letter. In the fall season, 54 percent of the athletes received this award.

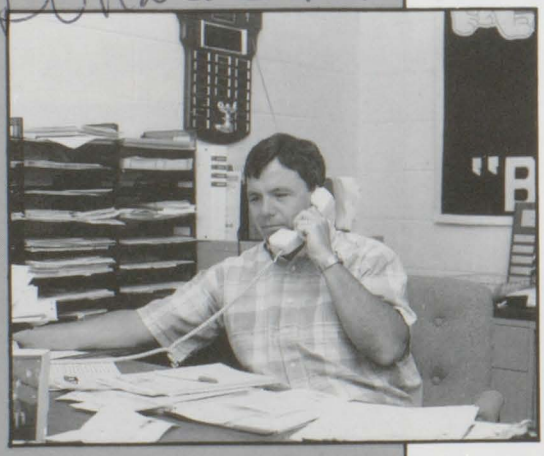

Yale offers many sports to choose from. Among these are Football, Girls Basketball, Cheerleading, Cross Country, Boys Basketball, Volleyball, Wrestling, Golf, Tennis, Baseball, Softball, and Track.

3-PEAT CO-CHAMPS

The Yale Varsity Football team went six and one in the league, 3-peating as co-champs. Their overall record for 1991 was six and three. The first place tie was with Brown City to whom they suffered their only league loss.

Jason Lamay led the Yale rushing attack racking up 1,000 yards on 101 carries. Eric Kovatch followed with 904 yards on 107 carries. Jeff Mason led in TDs with twelve while Scott Stiles led in 2pt. conversions with eight.

Many members of the team received post season honors. Jason Hillis, Jeff Mason, and Eric Kovatch were named to the All-Area First Team. All three were also named on the S.T.A. All-League 1st Team along with Neil Campbell and Jason Lamay. Scott Stiles, Sean Quain, Jim Bowen, and Brett Davenport were named to the second team. Honorable mention went to Brian Lossing, Ken Campbell, and Will Seaton.

Team awards were received by Jim Bowen and Jeff Mason for being Captains. Jeff Mason received the Most Valuable Player award while the Hustle Award went to EricKovatch.

CHAMPION PLAYERS

The Yale J.V. Football team had an outstanding season, having seven wins, one loss, and one tie overall; six, zero, and one in the league. The team won another S.T.A. Championship in Coach Smeznik's first year as head coach.

Tony Chandler led the team in rushing. He gained 881 yards on 115 carries. Mark Priess followed with 635 yards on 60 carries. Jared Thorner led the defense with 52 tackles. Tony Chandler (32), Roy Raska (22), and Jeremy Grove (20) also had a few tackles to contribute to the defense.

As a team, they ran 374 total running plays for 2,435 total yards and scored 366 points. Their opponents ran 325 running plays for 983 yards and 65 passing plays for 477 yards. The opponents scored only 116 total points against the Bulldog's defense.

Medals were given to each team member on the team for contributing to the championship season.

Round Ball Rhythm

The Varsity Girls Basketball team had a super and excellent season. The girls, along with Coach Rutledge, worked very hard to do their very best! Practice was essential. The girls practiced very hard, nearly everyday including some Sundays. All of this hard work and practice paid off. Overall they captured 12 wins, 8 of which were in the S.T.A. Seniors Casie Lay and Tonya Kavanagh add that,"This year our team was a great success. We feel the reason for being so successful is because Mr. Rutledge puts alot of effort into us. He started out by taking us to team camp and scheduling lots of summer practices. He pushes us alot when we need to be, but he also filled our season with alot of fun and memories." Yale is very happy with the success of our girls. We are sure that next season will be just as successful as the last. Great job this year girls!

The J.V. Girls Basketball team had an overall record of 9-11. "It wasn't a really bad season," stated spectator Jeff Pohlman. He thought with a little more work, the team would be awesome.

"Why basketball?" some might ask. "Well," Heather Birman said,"because it's exciting and fun!" Carrie Schroeder also added,"it's just plain fun!"

Basketball may look like an easy sport, but it isn't. Heather Birman said that "It involves lots of concentration and practice." Carrie Schroeder added, "you must work hard from the start." No matter what their record was, the crowd didn't complain. The Junior Varsity had some great games and their determination really paid off.

Awesome!

The Yale Varsity Cheerleading squal did an excellent job promoting school spirit and crowd participation. By "raisin " up the spirit the girls, along with the crowd helped the guys to another S.T.A. co-championship.

Homecoming was a big success this year. The pep assembly was great, and everyone was on their feet. The rainy weather didn't dampin the spirits of the Bulldogs. The homecoming games were a blast. Watching Yale's favotite teachers get pies in the face just added to the fun. Seeing the football players faces as their blindfolds were removed when they finished gobbling their licorice, caused lots of laughter. We're not sure of what exactly the guys were expecting at the end of the licorice, but we're sure it wasn't their mothers waiting to give them a big kiss.

Spirit week began on Monday the week of homecoming. The competition for spirit week was tough. Sara Porada added that, "the themes used in spirit week were easy to do and lots of fun. There was much more participation than in the past years." Spirit week included the homecoming pep assembly, float competition, and the spirit yell.

As if the weather knew that the Yale Bulldogs were going to take another win, the skies cleared, and the sun shone brightly. The cheerleaders were cheering; the crowd was screaming, and the Yale Bulldogs were psyched. As expected, the football team took another win in beating the Armada Tigers.

Many people do not know the planning the cheerleaders go through to make an event such as homecoming a success.

The cheerleaders also competed in a state competition, which they placed 4th. The girls had an excellent season. Good job girls!

SPIRIT

The Yale Junior Varsity Cheerleaders had an excellent and terrific season, filled with school spirit and lots of fun. Hours of practice and determination developed them into a great squad.

Though the girls liked practice, they said,"the games are the best!" Some of the cheerleaders added that, "Crowd participation really helps keep school spirits up!"

The girls were also involved in a mini cheerleading clinic. At this clinic the girls taught younger girls some of the stuff it takes to become a great cheerleader. They were taught things such as cheers, chants, and spirit raisers.

Over all, the girls and their coach, Tracy Palmateer, had a terrific and funfilled season. Lets hope that next season is just as great as this past one was. Good job girls!

The Cross Country team had an outstanding season this year, not to mention a difficult one. Besides going to practice Monday through Friday, the team also had to leave early on the weekends to go to meets. The buses left around 6:30 in the morning. According to Mark Harnden, the bus once left as early as 5:30.

At the meets the team ran a 5K race. They did an excellent job and won many races.

Jay Gaddis, who has been running since the sixth grade, offered this advice,"practice every day."

Siouxzy Compau says that the best way to keep in shape is to run over the summer. For beginners, "give it a try before you give up," says Becky Upleger.

Some runners like Jeff Edgerton started out running to get in shape, while others were in it for the sport. "It was like a family," commented C.J. Trupp.

Jeff Edgerton believes that Cross Country is a great sport. He has been running for three years. His advice to new runners is "Keep your head screwed on tight." The Cross Country did a great job this year. The hard work paid off.

Young Blood

Scott Huffman recieved the Most Improved Player Award. Brian Lossing was named Best Defensive Player and Jared Thorner was Best Offensive Player. Mark Harnden and Greg Gardner also recieved awards for the Varsity Team.

Recieving the William Bearss Award was Senior Mark Harnden. Mark was also named an Honorable Mention for the League Team.

The Varsity Basketball Team had many close games. They improved with every game they played. The Varsity Team was a very dedicated group of people.

The Yale Varsity Basketball team is young and inexperienced but have shown improvement throughout the season. It is a hard working and dedicated group. By spending time on the basketball court both during the season and off season, they have learned the values of discipline, teamwork, and good sportsmanship. With continued improvement, hard work, and dedication they will become a good basketball team.

The Junior Varsity Basketball team started the season with many new faces from previous years. The squad includes five first year players. With a lot of hard work and dedication through the season this team improved tremendously.

The J.V Team handled themselves very well both on and off the coarts. Many of their games were extremely close, and they never lost their cool. They displayed excellent sportsmanship during the Varsity games also. They cheered them on even during the hardest of games.

The Junior Varsity Basketball Team was coached by Mr. Smith. Roy Raska was named the team's captain. Also recieving Most Improved Awards were Ken Kovach and Brian McClelland.

Determination

The Yale Freshman Basketball Team showed much improvement throughout this years season. They had the will and determination to improve with each game. It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game that counts. The team played their hearts out.

Near the end of the season, the Freshman really picked up the pace. They pushed to win three of their last four games. The team has high hopes for the Junior Varsity Team next year.

The Freshman did not have any set Captains. They changed the job from week to week. The Most Improved Award was presented to Zyg Porada. The Hustle Award went to Brian Campbell.

The Yale Varsity Cheerleading Squad had another excellent season. From cheers to dances, the squad has kept school spirit high and crowd participation up. When the game got tough, the Varsity Squad never lost their smiles.

The captains of the Varsity Squad were Seniors Beth Chiesa and Casandra Ulbrich. Senior Jessie Kern was awarded the Coaches' Award.

The Varsity Cheerleading Squad also brought Yale many honors. Early in the season, the girls participated in the Second Annual Sandusky Cheerleading Competition. They took first place in all catagories, including Dance, Cheer, and Spirit. The girls performed very well throughout the season.

Playing volley ball is a tough job. Volley ball is a sport full of fluid-like moves, Lightning reflexes and fast action. It's also a sport that lets the "dirt fly", and lets one slam the ball into your opponents face.

All in all, the volley ball team has had an interesting season. One of their latest games proved to be one of the hardest games the Yale team has ever played. The team that Yale was defeated by was straight from the middle of Moscow, Russia. In Volley ball each game consists of three matchs. However, this paticular game was not totally normal. Sparta (the Russian volley ball team) defeated the Yale team in the first two matchs. In the first match the score was 1-15, and in the second match the score didn't get much better. the game came to an end in a 2-15 score.

Even though the Yale team was overpowered by the Russian team. Yale's disrict record still proves that Yale can and will hold it's own. What ever the outcome may be.

PIN AND WIN

Although Wrestling may be the hardest sport , this year's team did a great job. The FABULOUS FIVE, consisting of Dan Lay (a state qualifier), Dave Lay, Jason Gaddis, C.J. Trupp, and Jim Morran, have all placed at the meets.

Practices are hard but some keep in shape all year round. C.J. Trupp Wrestles all year round at different colleges and also runs Cross Country. He says that helps keep him in shape. Others like Dan Lay just lift Weights to keep in shape.

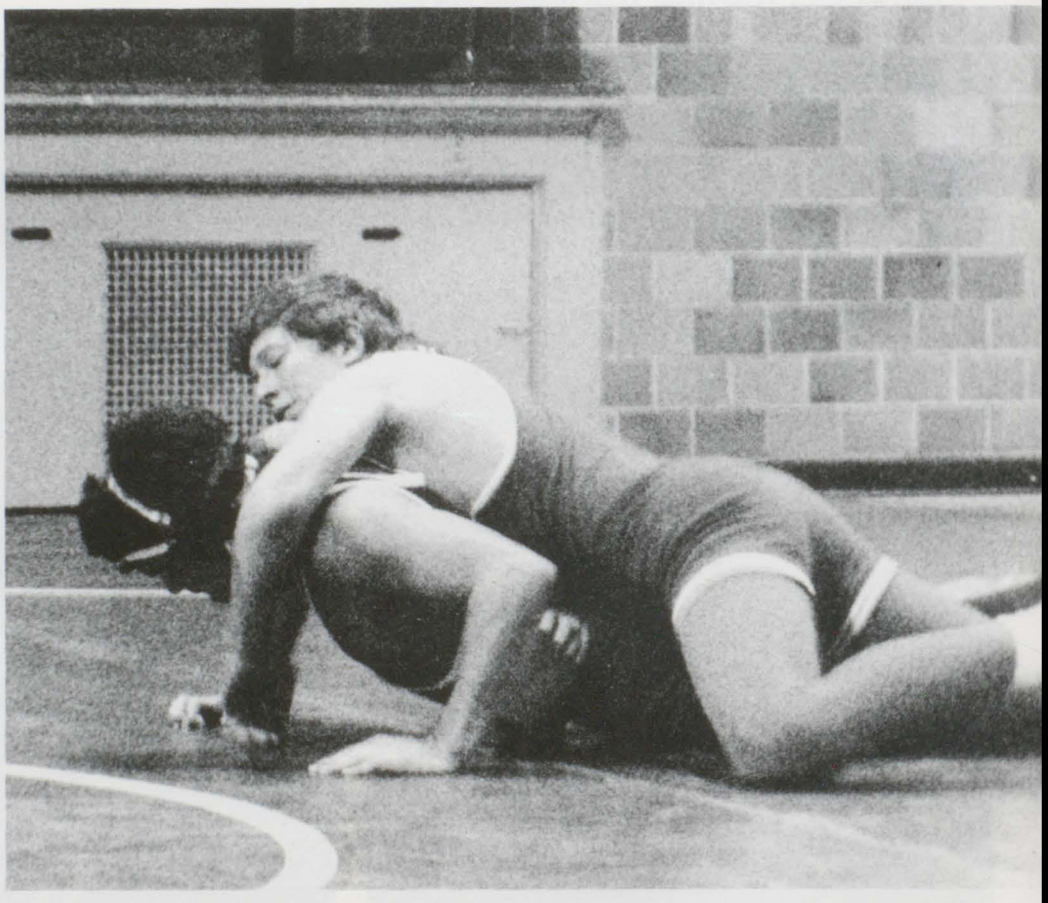

The Wrestling Team had an out standing season. The new Wrestlers are looking forward to another great season.

NEVER GIVE UP

Why tennis? When asked this question, team manager, sophomore, Danielle Francek said, "I really like the strenuous activity." The other team manager, sophmore, Tiffany Meleg, likes the sport because of a matter of scheduling, "because volleyball would interfere with cheerleading ."

No matter what the reason is for being a member of the tennis team, trial and error is a major part. The team's record of 0 and 17 is an example of this fact. When asked the question ,"since the team was almost all fresh players (except for two seniors and two juniors), do you think this effected their season?" senior Casandra Ulbrich replied YES. Later, coach Hunt stated that since the team was so young, they had less experience. Next season would be better but not dominant.

Both Danielle and Tiffany said that they've been interested in Tennis for about two years and have some advice for all those people who want to start playing Tennis or are about to give up playing. "Just work hard and keep on practicing."

Why Tennis? I don't know, but this year's team is a team on the rise and should be watched.

ANOTHER SMASHING SUCCESS

Success is the reward given for hard work and determination. The Varsity baseball team had another successful season, going thirteen and one in league action while seventeen and six overall. The team took another S.T.A. Championship, third in the last four years. Jeff Mason led the team with a .479 batting average. Brain Harnden was second with a .377 average. Kevin Kovach (.338), Kevin Campbell (.323), and Ken Campbell (.305) finished out the rest of the batting average leaders. Seniors Bill Manns and Mike Siekierski handled most of the pitching duties. Bill had Seven wins and one loss while Mike had five wins and two losses. Ken Campbell also saw pitching action having four wins versus one loss.

Many individual awards were given to players. Jeff Mason, Bill Manns, and Mike Siekierski were named First Team All League Selections. Bill Manns, Jeff Mason, and Brian Harnden were named to the All District Team. Team awards were given to Bill Manns and Mike Siekierski for co-MVP. Offensive Player of the Year Award was recieved by Jeff Mason. Brian Harnden was Most Improved player while Dave Barr was given the Coaches' Award.

Coach Jeff Denny finished off a fine coaching career at Yale High School, winning his third League Championship. This year's team was first to win seventeen games in a season. Coach Denny predicted that next year's team has an excellent shot at winning another league championship and having a lot of success.

The Yale J.V. Baseball had another outstanding season. They finished fifteen and eight overall, seven and three in league action. Mark Priess led the team with a .464 batting average. Jason La May was right behind with a .436 average. The team batting average was a .353 overall. The J.V.'s outscored their opponents two hundred and thirty-four to one hundred and sixty-one. When asked how Jeremy Grove felt a "team" aspect plays in the part of a winning season, he responded by saying, " Baseball is definitely a team-oriennted sport. Without all nine players working together, you're not going to have a successful season".

Coaching for his second year was Coach Don Smeznik. When asked what he enjoyed most about coaching he replied by saying "teaching the fundamentals of the game and seeing the improvement of the players from the beginning of the season to the end." Coaches Award this year went to Brian Lossing. Offensive Player Award went to Mark Priess and Deffensive Award was received by Adam Sklba. The following pitchers combined for fifteen wins; Scott Huffman, Jared Thorner, Mark Priess, Tim Harnden, Tony Davis, and Brian McClelland.

Next year Coach Smeznik will be replacing Coach Denny in the varsity position. Coach Smeznik was asked what the most difficult part of coaching is,"getting the most out of each indiviual, and trying to get players to be self motivated" is the way he responded. Coach Smeznik has plans for next years team, they are "hardwork and dedication." All of the above contributed to an outstanding season for the J.V. Baseball Team.

HOME RUN

"Your best is always good enough, no game you win will change the world, no game you lose will end it."

The Yale Varsity Softball team brought Yale many awards. Not only did they win the Yale Invitational, they also pushed on to take third in the S.T.A. Teri Kavanagh led the team with her amazing pitching abilities. In fact, she broke the record for a career with 56 wins and 535 strikeouts.

Teri Kavanagh and Sarah LaGore were selected to the First Team All League. Cindy Kinney was selected to the Second Team.

Teri Kavanagh and Angie Brown recieved the Co-captain Award. The Coaches Award was given to Sarah LaGore. Kory Falter obtained the Most Improved and Teri Kavanagh also earned the M.V.P Award.

The Varsity players did an outstanding job this year. They are looking forward to another.

STRIVE

Junior Varsity? Who would believe it? The girls who make up the J.V. Softball team showed great maturity in their playing; their teamwork was impressive.

The team, coached by Laura Robinson, recieved thirteen wins and only six losses. They played hard and it payed off. "We had fun, which is number one on my list,"said coach Robinson about her team. She also added,"we had a good season."

There were three captains this year. Shelley Gleason, Allison Pierce and Melissa LaMay led the team. Pitching for the Junior Varsity team was Allison Pierce. She struck out 130 batters and won eleven games. Shelley Gleason had the highest average of .500 and the most hits, most RBI's, and the most runs scored. Melissa LaMay had sixteen hits, forteen walks and eleven RBI's. The highest batting average for a non-starter is an honor that was awarded to Jaime Osmialowski with .333.

The Yale Varsity Boys' Track team was,"running down a dream this year, and it looks as though they caught it!" The boys had a terrific season, accomplishing many goals set. Regionals were a big success for the boys. They placed first out of seventeen. Will Seaton stated,"It's a challenging sport, and when you work to do your best, you can achieve a lot. The hard work and determination are what makes you enjoy it so much!" The boys also took many top placings at a number of meets. These included the Harbor Beach Invitational, the Capac relays, and the Marysville Invitational. Indiviual records for the season were set by Tony Ward. The 1600 relay team also set a number of records. The boys ran an excellent season, and you can bet that next year will be a repeat!

The Yale Varsity Girls' Track team ran away with another outstanding and impressive season. Sophomores Amy Tesluck stated, "Running track is a lot of hard work and determination." Her teammate Mandy Spiller added, "It's an individual sport, one that can be very challenging when you set your mind to it." The girls captured many wins; these included first place at the Mayville Relays, the Harbor Beach Invitational, the Capac relays, and many others. Many records were also broken by the girls, as a team and as individuals. Special awards were given to many members. Kelly Beschoner was awarded MIP. Co-captain awards went to Kelly Beschoner and Kathy Maplethorpe. Coaches awards went to Mandy Spiller. The girls had a great year!

One of the hottest movies, Robin Hood, became a smashing success. Kevin Costner starred as Robin.

Yale's new mayor, Henry Wolf, replaced Fred Fuller this year. Wolf has been an active member of the city government since 1975.

Facing the Gulf War was a hardship for President Bush, but facing the question of a recession was a battle.

Liz? Married? Again? It's true, Liz Taylor took yet another trip down the alter to marry Larry Fortensky.

Many people had never heard of Boris Yelsin before this year. The President of Russia, Yelsin helped Gorbechev return to power.

Wanda Halloway was charged with attempting to have her daughter's cheerleading rival and the girl's mother killed .

CLASSIFIED AFFAIRS!!

The year 1991 was filled with many changes that took place in the world around us. The year started out with a "bang." On January 16, 1991, the Gulf War between the United States and Iraq began. Even though the war was over within a few months, many troops still had to remain in Saudi Arabia.

Communism in the U.S.S.R also came to a halt with the passing of 1991. Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia were the first to start the break-up. Many soon followed the dissolution.

AIDS was also a large controversy in America. It was heightened by Kim Bergallis, who contracted the deadly disease by her dentist. Kim raised the question of whether health care workers should have to be tested for AIDS. America was also shocked to discover Basketball Star Magic Johnson contracted the disease.

Because many changes took place during 1991, this year will go down in history.

Free At Last!

For the first time in eight years no American hostages are held by foreign powers. Terry Anderson, top left, was released on December 4. Eight years after being held in captivity. The other U.S. captive Thomas Sutherland, bottom left, was released in November. Joseph Cicippi , top right, was released two days before Anderson. Alann Steen gained his long awaited freedom that day also. When asked what Andersons last words to his captors were, he said , "Goodbye." The long hostage ordeal was finally over for Mr. Anderson ending six years of worry for his family and friends.

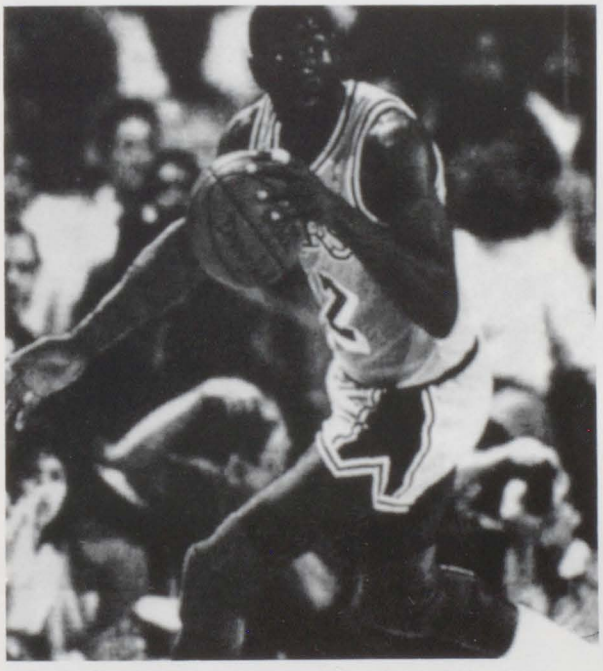

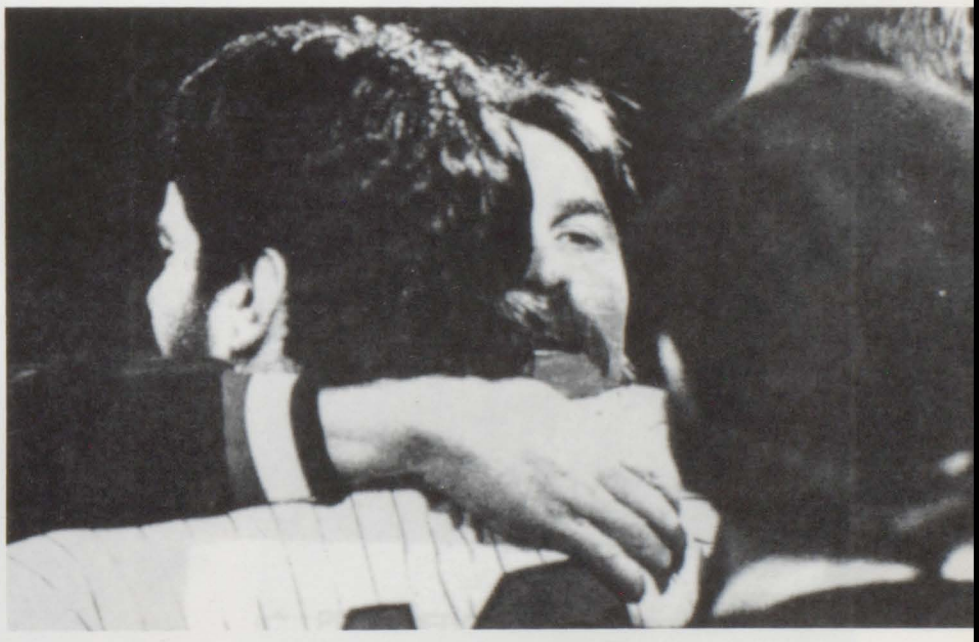

Miles Davis, one of the best Jazz trumpet players ever, passed away September 28. Miles had won four Grammies for his works and was given a life time achievement award for his many years in the jazz industry.

Theodor Seuss Geisel, or Dr. Seuss as millions of chidlren and parents alike grew to know him. Passed away at the age of 87. People grew up on Dr Seuss' "The Cat in the Hat," "How the Grinch Stole Christmas," and "Green Eggs and Ham."

Magic Johnson is a great L.A. Lakers player. He found out recently he tested HIV positive. The way he chose to deal with it is to go to the public. He's got a great attitude on life, Magic was on a talk show, and his words were "I'll still be the same happy-go lucky guy."

In what many consider the best World Series ever, the Minnesota Twins beat the Atlanta Braves in seven games last year. Both teams finshed at bottom of their division. The Twins won the first two at home when the series moved Atlanta. The Braves swept all three when the went back to Minnesosto to finish the series. They won by the Twins. This truely was a fall classic.

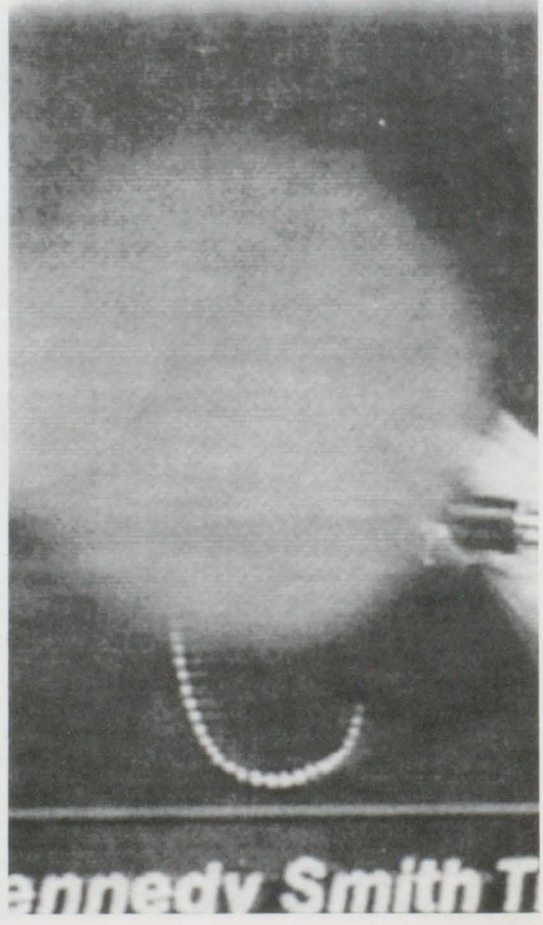

Sexual harassment became a national hot topic when Anita Hill charged the Supreme Court Nominee Clarence Thomas with sexual harassment. Miss Hill stated that this happened when she worked for him at the education department. The trial was televised for hours on end. Mr. Thomas went on to become the next Supreme Court Justice.

The Kennedys were also back in the news. William Kennedy Smith had rape charges filed against him by "the spot", who later turnd out to be Patrice Bowman.William Kennedy was found not guilty as charged.

Upper Right: Jeffrey L. Dahmer turned apartment 213 into a private slaughter house. He confessed to eleven murders. Various body parts were strewn around the apartment. After drugging his victims, he would strangle them and dismember the bodies.Upper Left:George Hennerd on October 15,1991 drove his pick-up truck through the window of Luby's Cafe. He opened fire shooting and killing twenty two people.

Actor Micheal Landon died in 1991. The famous star of such things like "Little House on the Prairie", Bonzanza and Highway to Heaven died as a result of liver cancer. Landon died at the age of 54.

Beverly Hills 90210 became one of the hottest TV shows this summer. The show, which airs of the fourth network Fox, made Luke Perry and Jason Priestly household names to many teens.

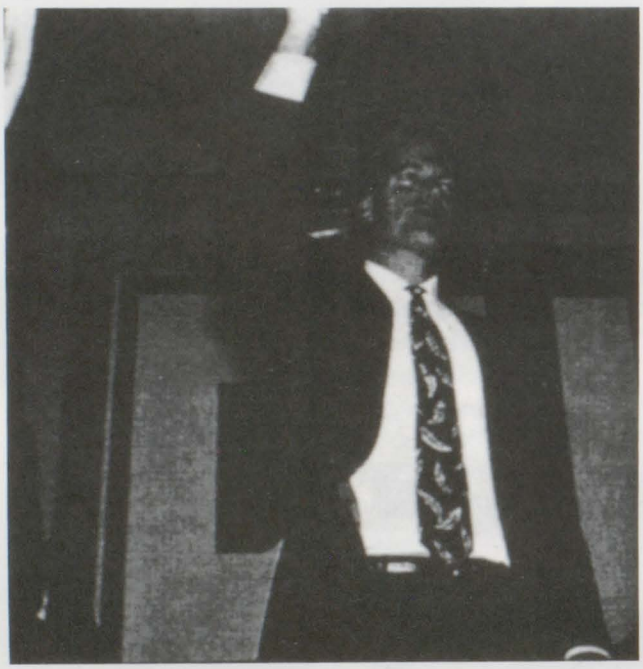

Dr Jack Kevorkin (upper center) was at it again. This time he helped Sherry Miller (upper right) and Marjorie Wantz (upper center) end their lives. Kevorkin faces manslaughter charges and has already lost his doctor's license. Forcing the state of Michigan to deal with the issue of a persons right to decide when to end his own life.

In what was one of the worst elections ever, former KKK Grand-Wizard, David Duke ran against former Governor and accused racketeer Edwin Edwards for Louisian-ans Governor.The voters took the lesser of the two and voted Edwards in by a landslide vote.

Redd Fox died on the set of his new show "The Royal Family" on October 11, 1991 at the age of sixty eight. Fox's character on his previous show "Sandford and Son" often faked a heart attack, claiming it was the "Big One". Unfortunately the big one took this great comedians life.

After thirty-one years as Tiger announcer Ernie Harwell Broadcasted his final Tiger game October 6 on Baltimore. Paul Carey, Harwell's long-time partner also Broadcasted his last game.That day Ernie Harwell was fired by the "forces that be" in the tiger ownership.

Jeff,
May your future be filled with happiness. Remember to always keep your winning smile and personality. Our love and support will be with you. You'll always be our "King."

Love,
Mom and Dad

Sarah,
I love you and am very proud of you. You can do anything you really want to do. Reach for the stars.

Mom

Brandie,
It's hard to believe you are graduating already. It seems like yesterday we were young kids just waiting to go to high school! Good luck, Brandie.

Love,
Rebecca

Casandra,
You had to learn so early in your young years not to take life for granted. With love, loyalty and patience, you've developed a beautiful personality that is genuinly caring and giving. We love you very much and you make us proud.

Love,
Mom, Reg, and Glynn

Brandie,
You have been the one we have counted on to graduate, and girl, you came through. We all love you and will be here in the future if you need us, as your future just begins.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Jaime, Ashley, and Henry

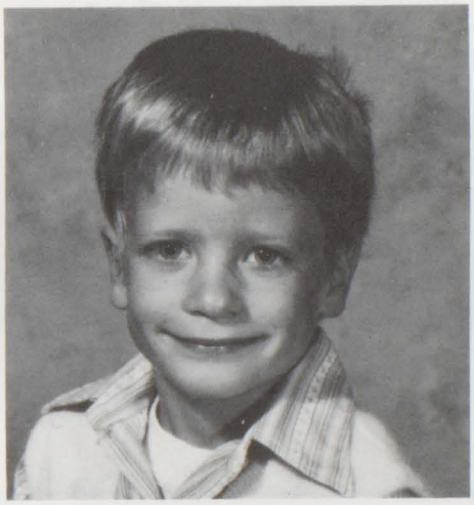

We love you, Karen. We wish you only the best in the years to come. Congratulations to you and all of the class of '92.

Mom and Dad

Dear Jeff,
From a very proud brother, to a brother who has achieved and excelled at every challenge life has presented. Keep those winning ways alive.

Love,
Big Bro Brent

Mark,
Congratulations! You finally made it. You had a great smile in your kindergarten picture, what happened to your senior picture? We're proud of you and wish you nothing but good luck in your future.

Love,
Dad, Kathy, Kim, Heather, and Mathew.

It's A Miracle

The book you are holding in your hand is the product of hundreds of hours of preparation. Beginning last spring, your publications staff has been working to bring you the very best yearbook ever. Attending workshops, gathering background data and interviews, and taking countless photos were duties every staffer assumed to assemble pages that captured the year's events in an attractive, journalistic manner.

It is a privilege to work with people as dedicated as this year's Adviser and members of the yearbook staff. Together they have produced a book that will rekindle memories for many years. As company representative I appreciated the opportunity to work with this year's staff.

Congratulations to them on their achievement... it is, indeed, a minor miracle!
